

RECALL TROOPS FROM LEAVES OF ABSENCE LAST NIGHT

Carranza Has Appealed to His Friends to Help Him in European Countries

EL PASO, Aug. 26.—Following the rumor that a large body of Mexicans was preparing to cross the border, troops of the Sixth and Sixteenth Infantry were hurriedly recalled from temporary leaves of absence late last night and were ordered to report immediately at Fort Bliss.

A special guard was stationed at the city police station.

LOOKS FOR EUROPEAN HELP

WASHINGTON, Aug. 26.—Pending the receipt of Carranza's expected refusal to join the peace conference proposed by the United States and Latin-American republics, his representatives are endeavoring to obtain recognition for him from the European governments, despite the fact these governments have advised the administration they will follow its lead. They have assured the State Department they have no choice as to the presidency of the republic and are concerned only in a restoration of peace. Specific statements on this subject have been made by British diplomatic officials to Secretary Lansing.

Judge Charles A. Douglas, legal adviser of Carranza, visited Sir Cecil Spring-Rice and submitted to him Carranza's claims for recognition as the head of the Mexican government. Just how far these efforts have progressed is not known, but State Department officials believe there will be no recognition of Carranza by any government in advance of action by the United States.

The Carranza agency yesterday announced that the reply of Carranza to the peace proposals might come today. State Department officials have no doubt that Carranza will reject all overtures and claim to be in control of Mexico.

SIXTEEN DEFENDERS KILLED

GUAYMAS, Mex., by radio to San Diego, Aug. 26.—Sixteen Mexicans, three of them prominent residents of Guaymas, were killed and their bodies mutilated, after defending themselves for two days in a house on the El Paso ranch, twenty-five miles north of Guaymas, against attacks by Yaqui Indians, it was stated yesterday in reports from the district. The Indians besieged the ranch house Saturday and Sunday, and finally destroying it with bombs.

A posse was organized by other ranchers and pursued the Indians, who drove off 560 head of cattle. The Indians outnumbered the relief party which finally abandoned the pursuit.

BANDITS TERRORIZING TEXAS

LAREDO, Tex., Aug. 26.—Sheriff Oscar Thompson of Hebbronville, Jim Hogg county, yesterday afternoon wired here asking that United States soldiers be sent there to protect the ranchers from Mexicans who are raiding the country. Thompson reported that several roving gangs of bandits have terrorized the county, have stolen livestock and have threatened American residents. There are about twenty in each band, a force too large for the deputy sheriffs to cope with. Aid will be sent.

MEXICANS FIRE ON AMERICANS,

BROWNSVILLE, Aug. 26.—Mexicans fired on American soldiers across the river near Santa Maria for two hours last night. They wounded two horses. The Americans returned a few shots. Three bands of Mexicans, numbering more than 100, crossed the river near Rio Grande City. Soldiers and civilians pursued. When near Yoma four Mexican bandits attacked a ranch, but a 15-year-old American boy fought them and routed the attackers.

Keyes warned Schmidt if the German hit him again he would shoot. It is alleged that Schmidt struck Keyes again, and Keyes was as good as his word.

THIS is the first photograph directly from the Dardanelles to show Turkish prisoners in the hands of the British. These forlorn men were huddled behind their own barbed wire entanglements at Sedul Bahr. They had erected these wires to keep out the British. Conditions were so primitive that the prisoners had to sleep on the rolling sand dunes. The tent in the background is where their scant meals are cooked.

SECRET SERVICE MEN CAPTURE ALLEGED SPY IN A FORT

WASHINGTON, Aug. 26.—The secret service officials believe that some of the fortress Monroe photographs, taken by Gustav Klopsch, an alleged German spy, have probably escaped seizure. Many of the photographs were confiscated, however. Klopsch is in jail in default of $5000 bail. He will be taken to Norfolk for trial.

LOOK FOR DYNAMITE ON LUMBER SLOOP

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 26.—J. O. Davis, collector of customs, notified customs authorities today at Seattle, Tacoma and Everett, Wash., to examine the cargo of the lumber schooner Wasp, which sailed early today for the north, to determine if the vessel had aboard a cargo of dynamite which was not put in her manifest.

Nearly a hundred tons of dynamite was found on an unguarded, unlighted barge in the bay last night by coast officials, but it had disappeared when they returned to it after a vain search for the owner.

CAPTAIN NICHOLS' SENTENCE REDUCED

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 26.—Superior Judge John K. Bulger today heard the testimony against Captain Charles Nichols, the skipper of the American-Hawaiian freighter, "Georgian," which struck a reef three miles west of Double Point, on August 2. He reduced Nichols' sentence from ninety days' suspension to fifteen days. Bulger ruled that Nichols should be censured for not stopping his vessel when he was not certain as to his proper course.

PROFESSIONAL BAD MAN BREAKS DOWN

CHILDREN GET ALL BY WRITTEN WILL

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 26.—"I want this to go to the children. It is all I have for them, but it is the best I can do. I want some one to see that they get it, for I have worked hard for it and saved it for them. I pray the Lord that they get it."

With these words written in her own hand, Mrs. Delilah Jane Villiers, who died in San Francisco August 22, left an estate consisting of one lot in Long Beach, valued at less than $600, to her two great-grandchildren, Glen Alfred Witham, 6, and Eva Jane Witham, 2 years old.

The will was filed for probate yesterday.

THE STRIKING MINERS CONFER THEN GO BACK TO WORK

Operators Are Very Optimistic, Thinking All Strike Danger Is Averted

CARDIFF, Aug. 26.—One thousand striking miners have returned to their jobs, following a conference with federation officials. The operators declared that the danger of a general strike has been thus averted. It is understood that the federationists advised the strikers to resume work pending the London conference between Lloyd George and the union leaders.

Following the return of the 1000 miners to their jobs, 2000 struck in the Llanhilleth district. They said they were dissatisfied with the results of the recent big strike. Many of the employees quit simultaneously.

GOVERNOR DUNNE WANTS CAPITAL PUNISHMENT ENDED

BOSTON, Aug. 26.—Governor Dunne, executive of Illinois, in addressing the Governors' Conference today pleaded for the abolishment of capital punishment. He asked the co-operation of the other executives, and firmly declared that executions failed to deter crime. He cited many government statistics to prove that states without capital punishment have the least number of homicides.

Governor Goldsborough, of Maryland, declared that all Southerners did not approve of Bleasdale's mob rule ideas. He declared such sentiments were totally un-American, irreligious and un-Christian. He received tremendous applause for his remarks.

Ex-Governor Cole Bleasdale, of South Carolina, next addressed the Governors' Conference. He commended Southern mob rule, and said that when mobs were no longer possible, liberty would be dead. He called lynching for hideous crimes "a protection to civilization." He denounced the prison methods of most states, and the "third degree" of the northern and western cities. He prophesied the time would come when the nation will follow in his footsteps and support the southern lynchings.

Governor Hunt of Arizona, joined with Governor Dunne of Illinois in pleading for the abolition of capital punishment. He said the tragic past were all experiments and proved that official violence in dealing with offenders begets popular violence.

Hundred and Fifty Bombs Are Dropped On Munitions Factory In Air Raid

German Forces Within Eight Miles of Petrograd Rail- way; New Victories

PARIS, Aug. 26.—In a greatest air raid of the war, sixty-two French aviators bombarded the big German munitions factories at Dillingen, Bavaria. The War Office has announced that 150 bombs were dropped. The aviators flew more than a hundred miles.

GERMANS REPORT OTHER VICTORIES

BERLIN, Aug. 26.—General Von Gailwitz's forces are now within eight miles of Bielowstok, a city midway between Warsaw and Vilna, on the line of the Petrograd railway. The capture of this city is believed but a matter of a few hours. The Russian rear guard has been severed. The Germans today report new victories on both flanks and also in the Vilna region.

LONDON, Aug. 26.—Land, sea, air and submarine attacks against the Turks in a great concerted effort by the British, French and Russians to force the Dardanelles, take Constantinople and gain the support of the warring Balkan states were reported last night.

A Russian aeroplane squadron bombarded Constantinople on Monday, killing or wounding forty-one persons, of whom eight were Greeks and three Armenians.

Australians' Great Fight

Operating in the northern zone of Gallipoli, British troops have captured 800 yards of Turkish trenches, according to an official Admiralty report issued in Paris, registering one of the largest single gains yet reported.

The trenches were stormed by Australian troops landed recently in a surprise attack at Sulva Bay.

Meanwhile the British in the region of Kithia and Avli-Burnu have commenced strong operations on a large scale and are reported to be making satisfactory progress.

FRENCH SOLDIERS SALUTE KING

PARIS, Aug. 26.—The French soldiers accorded Belgian King Albert a most remarkable tribute on a recent visit he made to the battle front. His two-day trip from Arras to Voges was one continuous ovation. President Poincare and General Joffre met Albert at Arras and the party motored to the French headquarters. An exchange of decorations was made with the Belgian King and the French leaders. The King reviewed the five regiments now deployed along the Alsne river line. King Albert climbed an observation post and viewed the miles of French and German lines, then he went by railroad to the eastern end of the lines and reviewed an entire army corps stationed between Nancy and Lunéville. He also inspected the aviation camps between Nancy and Pont-a-Mousson.

SERBIA TOOK IMPORTANT STEP

LONDON, Aug. 26.—It is widely reported in diplomatic circles that Serbia has taken an important step toward securing the aid of the Balkan powers in an attack on Constantinople. The new Serbian note placates Italy, and, according to well-informed observers, it paves the way for a second step in the Balkan negotiations.

BERLIN, Aug. 26.—It is officially announced that the Germans and Austrians have captured Brest-Litovsk, the main Russian fortress in her base for the field armies. The Teutons stormed and captured the western and northwestern portions of the outer defensive works and penetrated the main fortress. The garrison thereupon surrendered. All military critics consider this victory greater than that of Warsaw. The Russian engineers have spent millions on Brest-Litovsk, considering its capture to be impossible.

This capture makes the abandonment of the entire Kovno-Brest-Litovsk line imperative, and forecasts the fall of the fortresses of Bielowstok and Grodno. The Russians are retreating to the east and northeast. The forests will protect their right wing and the swamps their left wing and seriously impede the Teutonic advance. The quick surrender of Brest caused great surprise. The Russians were expected to withstand a fortnight's siege at least, several thousand, it is likely were surrendered. The Slavs firmly counted on Brest as a supply base following the fall of Warsaw. This loss will probably disrupt Grand Duke Nicholas' defense plans. Brest was possibly one of the greatest of European fortresses. It is situated at the confluence of the Bug and Mukhovets rivers, 120 miles from Warsaw. Railways intersect it from Odessa, Kiev, Moscow, Vilna and East Prussia. It is among the oldest of all Russian cities.

FRENCH AVIATION BASE ATTACKED BY THE GERMANS

BERLIN, Aug. 26.—German aviators attacked the French aviation base at Nancy. Four French aeroplanes were destroyed over Saarlauter, the War Office has announced.

Germans Claim Do Not Know For Sure That Arabic Was Torpedoed

No Report Forwarded to the Imperial Government Is Statement of Diplomat

WASHINGTON, Aug. 26.—Secretary of State Lansing and Ambassador Bernstorff conferred today fully half an hour. It is currently reported that Bernstorff promised that the Kaiser would curb the submarine operations and protect all Americans hereafter. The German reply to America's last Lusitania note is reported to be en route. Officialdom seems satisfied that Germany does not want America drawn into the war. A peaceful settlement is now considered certain. It is further believed that the official report of Gerard's conference with Foreign Minister Von Jagow will probably aid in clearing the situation.

BERLIN, Aug. 25, via London, Aug. 26.—If the commander of a German submarine exceeded his instructions in sinking the steamer Arabic, the German government will give full satisfaction to the United States, Chancellor von Bethmann-Hollweg informed a correspondent in an interview this evening.

The imperial chancellor made the following statement of Germany's position on the sinking of the Arabic:

"As long as the circumstances surrounding the sinking of the Arabic have not been fully cleared up, it is impossible for me to make a definite statement. Thus far we have received no report about it. Now we do not even know whether the sinking of the ship was caused by a mine or a torpedo fired from a German submarine, nor do we know whether in this latter case the Arabic may not by her actions perhaps have justified proceedings of the commander of the submarine."

"Only after all these circumstances have been cleared up will it be possible to say whether the commander of one of our submarines went beyond his instructions, in which case the Imperial government would not hesitate to give such complete satisfaction to the United States as would conform to the friendly relations existing between the two governments."

WASHINGTON, Aug. 26.—Secretary of State Lansing, uncertain of the full significance of Germany's request that this government withhold judgment on the sinking of the Arabic until its side of the case, has indicated to Count von Bernstorff, the German Ambassador, that he desires to confer with him on the subject. The Ambassador, who is now in New York, is expected to come to Washington within the next day or two.

CHARGE AGAINST LOS ANGELES BUSINESS LEADERS

OAKLAND, Aug. 26.—H. C. Osterman, head of the party which has just finished the transcontinental "Lincoln Highway" tour, today stated that Los Angeles and Denver had conspired to "steal" the transcontinental automobile business by erecting signs along the route, misdirecting tourists, and making them reach Denver and Los Angeles instead of San Francisco. Osterman declared that garage men along the route also misdirected the tourists. He said many of the misleading signs had been destroyed.

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 26.—On a charge of grand larceny, Bella Stark was yesterday held to answer to the superior court. Her preliminary examination was before Justice Forbes. It is charged that she stole a purse containing money from a customer in a downtown store. The defendant declared she was destitute and because she is the mother of seven children the court released her on her own recognizance.

EDUCATORS TALK OF ART AND ITS VOCATIONS

Interest In the Meetings Continues and Attendance Keeps Big Figures

OAKLAND, Aug. 26.—When the delegates to the Education Convention convened today they were still talking of the great address made by David Starr Jordan. He made one of the best impromptu speeches heard in the convention since it was called to order nearly two weeks ago.

Some of the delegates had attended the annual luncheon of the board of managers of the American School Peace League, and were enthusiastic regarding the talks made at the afternoon time, when speeches were in order. At this meeting it was suggested to have Congress found a school in Washington, with a foundation fund of at least $10,000,000, to teach students of all nations. This, in the opinion of some present, would make for world peace in a greater degree than any other one thing which could be suggested.

Dr. John Mez of Freiburg, Germany, was at the luncheon and said: "If there had been school peace leagues in Europe thirty years ago, there would be no war in Europe today. The glorification of war, and the declaration that it is inevitable, is as irrational as the belief in the middle ages that the plague was inevitable, and no efforts would be made to try to stamp it out."

The papers for today are "Art in Its Relation to Our Industrial Life," presented by Frank Alvah Parsons. For this evening the paper will be Social Aspects of Vocational Education," and the author is R. G. Boone, of the University of California, Berkeley.

A few of the good things in Mr. Parsons' paper were:

With the civilized world engaged in a life and death struggle for commercial supremacy, this nation is confronted with the most stupendous problem in its history.

Our social and industrial fabric is rent asunder by the forces of materialism as they grapple with man's inherent demand for standards of beauty and spiritual ideals.

Art is a quality or state of mind in which harmony is the result of laws obeyed. Beauty is this art quality externalized in material objects. Its presence is spontaneous and must be conceived before it can be expressed.

We must, in the near future, not only supply ourselves with the textiles, furniture, carpets, wall papers, clothes and other necessities furnished by Europe; but we shall in many instances be asked to supply South America and Europe itself.

The solution of this problem lies first in understanding and acknowledging that these conditions exist; second in awakening to a true knowledge of what art is and its function in the industrial fields of life, and third, to cancel dead traditions in methods of instruction and make it live, founded on the everlasting principles of beauty, which is harmony in all things.

Two of the things which Mr. Boone's paper will claim are:

Vocational education finds its excuse for being, in the relatively new and almost complete dependence of modern industries, commerce and government upon applied sciences; the need for vitalizing the problems of getting a living; and the recognition of a body of skillful, intelligent workers as a community asset. The movement for vocational education is social in its origin and in its realization.

All education, including vocational training, is social in its origin, and has characteristic group meanings, even for the individuals; the method and processes of vocational education being sharply distinguished from the individualistic methods of the traditional school.

WIND-UP OF CAMP AIGN TO GET HARBOR SIGNATURES PLANNED

Reports Show That 1300 Names Still Needed—Supervisor Leck Says County Board to Look After Shoulders of Good Roads—Crossings Report Encouraging

Concentrated effort in getting signatures to the Newport Harbor petitions was urged at last night's monthly meeting of the Associated Chambers of Commerce at the Palisades Hotel, overlooking the splendid bay that it is proposed shall be converted into a splendid harbor. Reports received at the meeting showed that about 1700 signatures have been received and that 1300 more must be secured in the next ten days.

The meeting last night followed a ride by launch from Balboa to the Palisades. This gave to the 100 men gathered from all over the county a fair idea of the possibilities of the bay. The launches went over a wide, deep stretch of water.

"Not over two per cent of those to whom these petitions have been presented have refused to sign them," said L. H. Wallace of Newport Beach, president of the Associated Chambers of Commerce.

L. L. Shaw stated that there ought to be 3500 names to the petitions merely that it might be used as an argument later when federal authorities are asked to aid the project.

Secretary Metzgar called attention to the fact that hard work will be necessary, as it takes sixty-five per cent of the property owners of the county to make up fifteen per cent of the vote cast at the last general election.

York of La Habra and Duckworth of Anaheim reported that in their communities that in order to get the signatures only one thing was necessary, and that one thing was to get out and see the people. A. B. Roussele, a harbor booster, said that there must be hustling, and time must be given to the closing of the campaign.

The general feeling expressed was that the petitions would have the requisite number of names. Those present showed that they would do the work that is necessary to get the names.

About Good Roads
Gustav Stern, chairman of the good roads committee, said that he had had conferences with the roadmasters of the P. E. S. P. and Santa Fe, and each roadmaster said he would start at once to fix crossings complained of by Stern for the Associated Chambers. In fact, the P. E. S. P. has started work. The Santa Fe roadmaster is to confer with Highway Engineer Emley as to the best kind of crossings to be put in.

"I have found that the shoulders of the roads are in a deplorable condition," said Stern. "In many places the earth has worn away from the pavement, and a dangerous place is left. I know, because I wrecked a good automobile when one of my wheels dropped off into one of these ruts, and I lost control of my car. I move that the secretary be instructed to write to the State and County Highway commissions urging immediate action in bettering the shoulders on the roads."

Supervisor Jasper Leck received applause when he arose and stated that the supervisors know that shoulders need fixing. They probably know it better than most people, because they are on the roads every day. However, hitherto there has been no money for this road maintenance except a small fund raised by fines. In making the new tax levy a special levy is being made for a maintenance fund.

"When we get that levy in a brief time, we will have something to do this work with," said Leck, "and until then you can rest easy, for we will attend to the matter."

chairman of the public utilities committee, made a report upon which his committee was authorized to ask the State Railroad Commission to investigate the rates charged by the Edison Company in this county.

A month ago a representative of the Edison Company appeared before the Associated Chambers, and convinced the organization that the step was an unwise one. He said that the expense of the action would be great, and he declared that a new rate would give pumping plant owners advantages. The result of his presentation was that the action ordering proceedings was rescinded.

Last night A. A. Mills came back with further statements concerning the Edison matter, still contending that the case should be taken to the state commission. Mills' report of last night was placed on file. His brief of his report follows:

"Community plants are generally impractical from lack of capital, centralized management and expert help. "The minimum charge at Riverside is compulsory for only one month and averages about seven months per year at Riverside; here six months compulsory, and averages about seven months with double the charge. "The investment per plant is very complicated, with Riverside furnishing transformers and switch-boards free, while here the consumer must pay about $475 average per plant for them. However, when everything is considered, it is probably about even here and at Riverside.

"A new schedule issued May 1 and effective June 10, 1915, increases the minimum charge from $25 to $48 on a 25-horsepower plant and from $60 to $65 on a 60-horsepower plant. This increase amounts to 15 per cent for the 60-horsepower plant and increases for different sized plants up to 92 per cent for a 25-horsepower. This new rate may be of benefit to the larger plants that operate most of the time.

"For lighting there is a clear profit of 50 per cent over the charge at Pasadena, the real profit probably being even more. This applies to the consumers in the cities of Fullerton, Santa Ana and Orange, with some slight modifications in the several lighting districts and other consumers.

A. S. Ralph, secretary of the Automobile League, said that one purpose of the league was to secure co-operation of automobile owners in prosecuting violators. He said that the only way to get arrests for the dangerous practice of cutting in was for those who observe those violations to swear to complaints. He stated that as he was on the way to the beach yesterday evening a machine cut in and menaced him. He got the number. He urged all present to make complaints whenever conditions warrant them.

Gustav Stern said that the good roads committee would be glad to have individuals report to him any bad places in pavement, so that he could call the attention of the proper authorities to them.

An unusually fine banquet was spread last night in the beautiful new dining room of the Palisades Hotel. The service was excellent, and the banquet was one to be remembered. The address of welcome was cheery and hospitable, delivered by J. P. Greeley of Balboa, who did not overlook the opportunity to call attention to the possibilities of Newport harbor. The reply was aptly made by H. V. Weisel of Anaheim.

LUNCH BASKETS AT EXPOSITION NUMEROUS

People Staying All Day at Fair Bring Lunches For Selves and Families

BY FRED S. FERGUSON
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 26.—The great American lunch basket has come into its own. If it isn't a basket, then it's a box, but in either instance, concealed in the depths is picnic food. There are probably more than 10,000 picnics here every day. One of the strongest indications that America is really here and taking in the exposition for all its worth is that it brought its lunch. In the early days of the exposition visitors to the big fair were mostly Native Sons. San Francisco spent its afternoons wandering through the big palaces or along the palm-lined avenues, or hustled out in the evening for a whirl on the Zone. But these people were not troubled much with the question of eating. When they did eat they dropped into one of the cafes where there is music and dancing, if they did not grab something quick from a spindle on which roast chickens, hot dogs and slabs of beef were revolving. They are still doing the exposition and hundreds of others like them are on the scene. But an exposition crowd travels on its stomach just as much as an army and no successful army can depend on foraging. Therefore the lunch basket.

The crowds now visiting San Francisco are made up of people who have traveled across the continent or part way across, to see the exposition. They go out to the grounds early and stay late. One, or possibly a couple of flings at the Zone and they are about through with that part of the fair. But hour after hour they put in viewing the various exhibits. Restaurants, cafes and quick lunch stands are jammed by those who did not come prepared. There is no time to be lost in long waits for a bite to eat. It is only a step to the broad steps of some building. A short walk through one-seeing things as they go—will carry this great American crowd to the Marina, over-looking the bay. Others may jam and elbow and think of the time they are losing if they like, but big America from Honeville takes these short cuts to food. A mysterious package appears. There are smiles of anticipation and in about five minutes your sight-seeing army is at "mess."

Toward noon or around the dinner hour in the evening, benches, steps and the grass plots on the Marina are filled with these picnic parties. There is a brief period of rest; possibly the stop is made long enough to write a postcard to someone back home, and they're off again. Exposition "white wings" are on the job in some numbers throughout the day removing traces of the picnic parties, but at night they appear en masse. The broad avenues, lawns and corridors of buildings are fairly burished. The next morning the grounds shine in the sunlight, ready for new thousands and the return of thousands of others who picnicked there the day before.

While on the subject of food, it might be mentioned that San Francisco now has the biggest free lunch counter in the world. It is the Food Products Building at the exposition. In this building there are exhibits of anything and everything in the way of food. Spend one hour in the Food Products Building, accepting a sample from every exhibitor urging you to "just try it" and a week's siege of indigestion is guaranteed. But everybody does it. It is only a step from breakfast food to desert and then possibly to soup, topped off with a California liqueur. Everybody tries to sample everything, with the result that the Food Products Building has been given a name by the crowds which probably will last longer than the formal title bestowed by the exposition officials. It is known as the Nibbling Palace.

BUNDLE OF LOOT FROM RAYMOND STORE FOUND

Clothing Stolen On Friday Night Cached On Lot On Broadway and First

Having occasion to cross the vacant lot at the northeast corner of First and Broadway this morning, G. H. Andrews, who lives on the southeast corner of the two streets, accidentally discovered a part of the loot which burglars secured from the R. R. Raymond Department Store, 214-216 North Main street, Friday night.

Hidden among the tall weeds, Andrews found a bundle of suits, sweaters and other wearing apparel. The goods had been tied into a compact package with ropes. The bundle had been covered over with two or three 2x12 boards about three feet long.

Believing that the goods he had discovered were part of those which had been stolen from the Raymond store, Andrews communicated with the store. An employee identified the goods.

Officers who were called made a thorough examination of the vacant lot but were unsuccessful in finding any of the jewelry or razors which were stolen.

'NO DESPERATE SITUATION' IN CONTRABAND COTTON

Comments, Various Quarters, Show Great Divergence of Business Opinions

"ALLIES WILL LOSE FRIENDS"
BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Aug. 26.—W. P. G. Harding of the Federal Reserve Board told the Alabama Merchants' Association here today that the placing of cotton on the contraband list by the allies did not create a desperate situation, but rather one calling for intelligent leadership. He urged southern bankers to make concessions to finance the crop and predicted there would be international competition for the American crop despite the fact that it was contraband.

WILL HAVE BAD EFFECT

ATLANTA, Ga., Aug. 26.—I am afraid the action of Great Britain declaring cotton contraband will have a very distressing effect on our people. It is difficult to foretell how wide-reaching the result may be.

Nothing could have been done to more effectually alienate the sympathies of the South for the allies. I hope a very strong protest from this side will induce the allies to take some steps to palliate the inevitable result on our markets.

NAT E. HARRIS, Governor.

WILL NOT AFFECT SHIPPING

OKLAHOMA CITY, Aug. 26.—While regretting England's act in placing cotton on the contraband list, we do not think it will make shipping any more difficult than it has been in the last few months.

We understand that placing cotton on the contraband list does not effect shipments to neutral countries as long as England is satisfied that it is for their own consumption.

W. B. GOUELOCK, President Cotton Exchange.

BROKER SAYS ENGLAND RIGHT

NEW YORK, Aug. 26.—I believe England is justified in declaring cotton contraband. Every time you fire a big gun, you burn up a bale of cotton. The wonder is that England did not put cotton in the contraband list long before. Her action now will not affect the cotton market or cotton industry. For the last eight months the British embargo on cotton has had the same effect as if cotton was regarded absolute contraband.

N. L. CARPENTER, Cotton Broker.

SOUTH PRETTY ANGRY NOW

BALTIMORE, Aug. 26.—The South will be placed in a worse position by England's declaration that she has since the war knocked the cotton market to pieces. They are pretty angry down South and this last act will force their representatives in Congress to take some action in reply.

THIS PHOTOGRAPH, which comes from London, purports to show Private Markuch of the Russian army, who declares that his tongue was split when he was captured by the Huns in the Austrian army. He said they insisted on his giving up information about the Russian movements and location, but that he refused. Then he declared, according to the information from British sources, that he was tortured in this way to compel him to talk. He refused, and later he escaped back to the Russian lines. The Russian authorities evidently believed his story, for he was decorated with gold, silver, copper, and iron medals of various orders in reward for his loyalty.

that will undoubtedly wield a big influence on the agitation to place an embargo on munitions of war.
EDWARD H. HADLEY, Cotton Broker.

NO CHANGE IN THE PRICE

VITSBURG, Aug. 26.—Do not consider England's action in declaring cotton contraband likely to have a material effect on the price. The embargo on ships likely to reach Germany and Austria has existed since March. The present action cannot reduce exports to an appreciable extent and has probably been discounted by the trade already.

P. A. COWAN, Pres. Vitsburg Cotton Exchange.

SAN DIEGO, Aug. 26.—With the celebration of high mass and weird dances and ceremonials, one thousand Mission Indians from many reservations in Southern California began a four-day fiesta at the Panama-California Exposition yesterday. WOMEN RIOTING IN A FACTORY STRIKE

BRIDGEPORT, Conn., Aug. 26.—Five thousand factory workers representing nearly every trade, are on strike in this city tonight. More than 2000 of them are girls and women. A general strike of freight handlers of the New Haven road is threatened. Nearly 150 struck this afternoon. Every available policeman in the city is at the freight sheds.

Rioting occurred at the Sales Textile Company plant this afternoon. Windows were broken in the factory, and women, throwing stones and wielding umbrellas, attacked men who attempted to return to work.

MAJ.-GEN. WOOD WILL BE ASKED TO EXPLAIN

Invited Roosevelt to Speak at Plattsburg, and T. R. Attacks Administration

WASHINGTON, Aug. 26.—Major-General Leonard Wood will undoubtedly be asked to explain the reason why he invited Theodore Roosevelt to address the military instruction camp last night at Plattsburg, N. Y. Roosevelt's speech practically condemned President Wilson's entire foreign policy. Secretary of War Garrison said he is not as yet prepared to discuss the incident in any way.

Last Words of Roosevelt's Speech

"This country should stand by the President only so long as the President stands by the country."

These were Colonel Roosevelt's final words at the Delaware & Hudson station last night as he left for New York. Earlier in the evening he delivered a most vigorous and impressive speech to the business men's military camp.

Five thousand persons gathered on the hill in front of General Wood's headquarters to hear the ex-president. Salvoes of applause greeted him as he declared lack of preparedness. He was cheered when he said that if he had the power, members of labor-peace parties who stated that in case of war they would not fight, would either be made to fight or else be shot. He declared it would be "a base abandonment of morality" for American manufacturers of munitions of war to refuse to make shipments for the armies "that are trying to restore Belgium to its own people," and that munition makers who refused to make such shipments should be put, he said, on a roll of dishonor.

Starting when dusk was just creeping in from the mountain peaks, the Colonel continued to talk until he could no longer see his audience and he read notes by a tent lantern. The audience formed a great semi-circle. In the center were 1400 business men soldiers; back of them 3000 men and women from the lake resorts. Officers of the British army from Canada and members of the diplomatic corps from Washington were also there. Flanking the whole were members of the United States general staff and officers and men from the Plattsburg barracks.

WELL-KNOWN IRISH DRAMATIST DIES

NEW YORK, Aug. 26.—James Connors Roche, an Irish dramatist, actor, poet and formerly a war correspondent, died yesterday in a hospital here. He was 72 years of age. During the Franco-Prussian war he was correspondent for a New York paper and afterwards became its dramatic critic. He became famous as the author and leading actor of "Rory o' the Hills," which ran 400 nights here.

SUFFRAGISTS STOP NEW YORK STRIKE

NEW YORK, Aug. 26.—The proposed suffrage strike of 500,000 women and girls in New York City was officially declared off today. Believing that the public "now realizes the importance of woman's place outside the home as well as in it," the suffragists abandoned their plans for the one-day stay at home protest. Announcement of the sudden change in plans was made by Mrs. Norma De R. Whitehouse.

ANNAPOLIS ACADEMY HAS ROOM FOR IMPROVEMENT

Late Revelations Show That There Should Be Something Done About Hazing

ANNAPOLIS, Aug. 26.—Secretary of the Navy Daniels isn't too proud to listen to suggestions for improving Uncle Sam's private school for naval officers at Annapolis. The institution is being run on a creditable plan at present, the Navy Department contends, but any idea worth while will receive Mr. Daniel's due consideration. All the late scandal there wouldn't be scandal, it is argued, if the school did not have a good system of government and a fair reputation to uphold. The late "gouging revelations," however, have shown there is room for improvement. So the Secretary, realizing that his is not the only academy in the country, has been trying to find out how the others are run. There are at least fifty other educational establishments where young men are governed by stringent systems. Now the head of the navy figures that in fifty such places there must be some differences in regulations and discipline. If any of them have better than Uncle Sam, he wants to incorporate them into his own.

THIN MEN AND WOMEN

DO YOU WANT TO GET FAT AND BE STRONG?

The trouble with most thin folks who wish to gain weight is that they insist on drugging their stomach or stuffing it with greasy foods; rubbing on useless "flesh creams," or following some foolish physical culture stunt, while the real cause of thinness goes untouched. You cannot get fat until your digestive tract properly assimilates the food you eat.

There is a preparation known to reliable druggists almost everywhere, which seemingly embodies the missing elements needed by the digestive organs to help them convert food into rich, fat-laden blood. This preparation is called Sargol and much remarkable testimony is given as to its successful use in flesh building. Sargol, which comes in the form of a small non-injurious tablet, taken at meals and mixing with the digesting food tends to prepare its fat, flesh and muscle building elements so that the blood can readily accept and carry them to the starved portions of the body. You can readily picture the transformation that additional material should bring with your cheeks filling out, hollows about your neck, shoulders and bust disappearing and your taking on from 10 to 20 pounds of solid healthy flesh. Sargol is harmless, inexpensive, efficient. All leading druggists of this vicinity have it and are authorized to refund your money if weight increase is not obtained as per the guarantee found in each large package.

NOTE: Sargol is recommended only as a flesh builder and while excellent results in cases of nervous indigestion, etc., have been reported, care should be taken about using it unless a gain of weight is desired. Advertisement.

ANNAPOLIS ACADEMY HAS ROOM FOR IMPROVEMENT

to incorporate them into his own. Secretary Daniels has written to the presidents of these schools asking concerning the rules and practices observed in their institutions.

The secretary expects these queries to be answered in the course of time and is in no hurry about them. When he gets them all in he will look them over and pick out the ideas that he can use. He will weave the best of those that he can into the Annapolis system and those that he can't he is very apt to ask congress to weave in for him.

"Gouging" and "hazing" are going to go. The secretary is specially interested in the way examinations are conducted elsewhere, and is going to apply some of the safety-first principles in the examination room. The next modern language test won't be cribbed, and the upper class drill masters won't drill under classmen in "matter along the same lines as the coming exam" the night before that event takes place. If he has to, Mr. Daniels will lock the papers in a steel box as soon as they are made up or carry them in his vest pocket to prevent young prospectives from getting at their contents.

Hazing doesn't occur often. There is a law against that and it doesn't matter whether the offense is grave or insignificant, the law is law. Occasionally a first offender gets off with a severe reprimand, but second offenders "get the boot," and they know what to expect. In this respect discipline isn't often broken.

WATER COMPANY ASKS TO RAISE RATES

Application was made yesterday by La Habra Domestic Water Company of the State Railroad Commission for permission to increase its water rates by 10 cents per 100 cubic feet for all water sold one consumer in excess of 6000 gallons a month. The company also desires to charge small consumers 4 cents for 100 gallons of water.

NEW TREATMENT FOR TUBERCULOSIS

PARIS, Aug. 26.—Dr. Louis Renon, connected with the Necker Hospital, and a member of the medical faculty of the University of Paris, has announced to the Therapeutic Society that he is able to prove that tuberculosis, contrary to the generally accepted theory, must be treated by chemical means and not by serums.

He says therapeutic action can be obtained by adding certain substances to an animal organism and also by withdrawing by dietary means other substances necessary to the growth of bacilli.

ARE YOU ASLEEP?

In the new department called "The Family's Money" in the September American Magazine appears a little article by a man who, at forty years of age, got a jolt that woke him up. He was suddenly made to realize that one who could not make a success of his family finances could not be trusted to manage the finances of a larger business. Following is his account of how he secured a $5000 a year position which he might not have gotten had he not learned to save his own money:

"Until forty, pride was always my 'Nttil forty, pride was always my and had a wife and four children. My salary was $50 a week. We spent all of it. One day my department head called me into his office.

"We are going to make a change," he said. "I am to be promoted, and So-and-so is to succeed me as manager of this department. You were considered, but the old man investigated you and, finding that you were not putting aside any of your income, concluded that one who could not make a success of his family finances could not be trusted to handle an important part of a big business where production is maintained at the minimum."

"I did not feel offended. I realized that the fault was my own. I went home and told my wife why I had lost this $5000 a year place. I think I must have jolted her pride. She suggested that we move out of the district where house rent was $50 a month and confine our living expenses to $25 a week, half of my income.

"To make this obligatory I instructed the office bookkeeper to hold back $25 of my salary each week until the end of the year. I was determined to show the 'old man' that I could save money.

"At the end of the remaining thirty weeks in that year I had $750 to my office account. I might have received six per cent interest, but I was fishing now for bigger game. I told the bookkeeper to hold back $30 a week.

"The end of the eighteenth month found me in charge of the purchasing department for the company and drawing the $5000 a year. When I am fifty years old I shall have no less than $30,000 at the present schedule. And this is a better asset in old age than pride."

A VALUABLE NEGRO

Ran Peacock, an old slavery time negro, was exchanged sixty years ago for a one-fourth interest in a lot at the corner of Whitehall and Alabama streets, in Atlanta, Ga., and on this lot the present owner is now erecting a 15-story office building.

Ran was 17 years old when the swap was made, which makes him 77 years old today. He was owned by Thomas Connally, the father of Dr. Thomas W. Connally, the present owner of the lot. Connally swapped him to his first cousin, Thomas Peacock, who wanted Ran for a valet and offered Connally his fourth interest in the lot, which was valued at $6000, making the value of Ran $1500. Connally gave the negro for the ground and it has remained in the family ever since.

The lot is now valued at one million dollars. In after years when Atlanta began to grow and the lot began to mount in value, Thomas Peacock often said he would never regret the trade, no matter how valuable the lot might become because Ran stayed at home and took care of his wife and children, while he was in the war with the Confederate army.

YOUTH IN THE LEAD

In the September American Magazine Stanley Johnson begins a series of articles entitled, "Youth Leads the Way," in which he will report many new and wonderful facts about the developments in agriculture recently made in this country by boys and girls. A suggestion of the tremendous contribution made by the youth of America is to be found in the following brief extract taken from Mr. Johnson's article:

"Twelve hundred boys in the summer of 1914 added $20,000,000 to the productive wealth of the state of Ohio. This was their response to the call for help. They were the corn club boys of the Buckeye State. They raised the 'average yield of corn per acre from 35 bushels to 81, a gain of $20,000,000 a year to the state," says A. P. Sandles, president of the Ohio Agricultural Commission.

"I have chosen this instance because it illustrates the need of help, the awakening, and the way the people of Ohio showed their appreciation. The business men of the state went deep into their pockets and sent the entire twelve hundred boys to Washington, to New York City, and later gave them a trip to the big Panama show at San Francisco. Young Arnett Rose of Lima won the honor of being the Boy Champion Corn Grower of Ohio, two years in succession, raising 131 bushels on an acre in 1913, and 153 bushels in 1914. But the Ohio people understood that it was the entire twelve hundred boys who deserved their gratitude.

"There was a real need for this help. The corn crop of Ohio diminished 28,000,000 bushels between 1912 and 1913. That is a very grave loss. Ohio's greater population still lives in the country—and her rural population embraces one-twentieth of that of the Republic.

"But Ohio is not alone in this economic agitation; it is nation-wide. And the Young Generation, between the ages of ten and eighteen, in an all-over-the-nation, splendidly-organized club movement, under the direction of the United States Department of Agriculture, is going to pull the country up and out of its dilemma."

DUMBA'S TRUNKS ARE SEARCHED BY SPIES

LENOX, Mass., Aug. 26.—The presence of mind of Dr. Constantin Theodore Dumba, ambassador of Austria-Hungary to the United States, in carrying with him a small bag of secret papers pertaining to Austrian affairs in the present conflict is all that saved him from falling into the hands of American enemies.

Today the trunks and bags of Ambassador Dumba, stored in the Lenox railway station, were pried open and the contents strewn about the place in an effort to locate the papers. The baron's baggage was also rifled.

HAYTI PRESIDENT SEEMS FAVORABLE TO PROTECTORATE

WASHINGTON, Aug. 26.—It is regarded as almost certain that President Dartignave, of Hayti, will at once accede to the demands of America for the establishment of a Haytian protectorate. Otherwise America will at once withdraw her marines and the revolutionists would speedily oust Dartignave from the presidency.

Hiram W. Johnson on Non-Partisanship

From the Second Biennial Message of Governor Johnson to the Legislature of the State of California

Most earnestly do I suggest to you that our state officials be elected without party designation of any sort. The advance to non-partisanship in our state will be neither an extended nor a difficult step. The political units that compose the state have all adopted non-partisanship in the selection of their officials.

The desideratum of all government is efficiency—to obtain honest and able officials devoted exclusively to the government. To govern well is to govern for all, not for a part of a class. To act in official capacity should be to act solely for the benefit of the state, and that official acts best who forgets every other consideration but the interest of the state.

Long ago this lesson was learned by cities. In California, as in many states, all of our cities elect their officials without regard to party affiliations at all, and without party designation. Why? Because experience taught these cities that thus they obtained better officials and greater efficiency. It is within the memory of all of us that these cities formerly elected their officials, city clerks, and the like—because of their partisan affiliations. Progress in city government swept from existence this old system, that had obtained so long, and its destruction was necessary in order that the best government be obtained.

Recently the counties of the state adopted the plan that has been in vogue in cities, and elected all of the county officials without party designation. Inquiry among the counties has demonstrated that this method has met with almost universal approval, and it is hoped that the counties, in service, will be benefited just as the cities, in service, have been benefited.

We now suggest applying the principle to the state as well, so that candidates for state positions will come before the people upon what they themselves are, not upon what their ancestors were; that they will ask the suffrages of the electorate upon their record or lack of record, their merits or their demerits, rather than upon the blind partisanship of themselves or their forefathers.

D. W. McDANNALD'S ADVENTURES AT THE SAN FRANCISCO FAIR

PANAMA-PACIFIC EXPOSITION, SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 22.—Another busy week, and everybody satisfied with results. If there is a civilized country on the habitable globe that did not celebrate in some sort of fashion the last week, then I have forgotten my geography.

The most eventful day for some time was Saturday, August 14—San Joaquin Valley Day. To get away from the stereotyped and conventional they gave watermelons, and the mess the people made of it would have out-bogged a hog. A surging crowd of melon-hungry people soon got beyond the control of the exposition guards, and a squad of soldiers was called in to hold them in check. It is almost unbelievable the amount of ferocity displayed in the desire to get a slice of the tempting fruit. It was no time at all until the attendants were swamped in their efforts to cut them in anything like orderly manner, then they began breaking them open, and tossing the dripping chunks to whomsoever held up their hands. The plight of a lot of people's clothes were in was something terrible.

Yesterday was Sacramento Valley Day, and they gave away peaches, beautiful pink-cheeked peaches, 500 boxes of them.

Wednesday was given over to the Food Products building and their contribution to the public welfare embraced every viand of which the human family is fond.

That night, after the festivities were over, the great building was strewn shoe-mouth deep with litter. It looked more like a slaughter pen than the spic-span structure it usually is.

Orange county people fairly swarmed through the California building the last few days, and I have been kept busy extending the glad hand. James Sleeper, our popular county assessor, came in the other day, and my first thought was "I have not filled out my assessment blank this year." Though somewhat tardy, I sat down to the table and began to enumerate my worldly possessions. I put down one wheelbarrow of doubtful age, value 69 cents; one grindstone, the best in the neighborhood—in its youth, originally 32 inches in circumference—now only 32; crank shaft loaned to Johnnie Leck, to tune up his vibrator, value unknown. I was going to enumerate a lot more things I possess, but Jim assured me it was no use, as he considered me a public charge, and I was not amenable to the law.

H. Clay Kellogg and family called, and while I was holding an animated conversation with the lady, Clay rang up a tricuspid contrivance, and tried to calculate how a pipe line could be run to connect the tank in the orangeade fountain with our booth. Richard Mitchell, Mrs. Mitchell and a half dozen little Mitchells, some small and some smaller, paid me their respects the other day, and just for a "josh" Dick offered to bribe me to write a nice little complimentary notice of his being here.

Prof. Edgar H. McMath, principal of the Santa Ana high school, and carrying the stern look of the real pedagogue, came in yesterday evening just to tell me that he was having the time of his life. Today I was in the midst of the following peroration to some strangers: "To those from other climes where winter's chilly blasts and summer's torrid heat makes life one rosy round of discontent for hardships long endured, our fair southland sends kindly greetings, and waits across the western waste a welcome to our sun-kissed shores." Who should reach out his sun-burned paw to break the soliloquy but our esteemed jurist, Z. B. West. The apparition fell upon me like a brick flue toppling over, and the strangers went away thinking I was queer. The judge promises me the rear quarter of a venison on his return trip, and if some good Samaritan will kindly hamstring the animal, I will expect a compliance of the promise.

These San Francisco papers are the most obliging I have seen anywhere. The morning edition is on sale at 9 o'clock the evening before. Late this evening Prof. Cranston called. He was on his way home from his apple ranch up in the Yakima Valley, Wash. The professor, like a good many other misguided mortals had made up his mind we could not grow the luscious fruit with the tempting nectar in Orange county, but when he sees our fragrant Jonathans, crimson Rome Beauties and pink-cheeked Bananas, grown on the Newport Heights, he will change his mind just as all other smart men have done who have made investigation.

Our rare fruit exhibit in the Palace of Horticulture is still the center of attraction in that interesting building. Crowds of people, eager for information, gather around the table the living long day. When I get the rest of my collection in the display, it will require the attention of a guard to move the crowd along. I expect a great number of our Orange county people the last of this week, when Southern California celebrates with grapes, and tuna sandwiches.

Yours truly,
D. W. McDANNALD.

A MEDICINE CHEST FOR 25c
In this chest you have an excellent remedy for Toothache, Bruises, Sprains, Stiff Neck, Backache, Neuralgia, Rheumatism and for most emergencies. One 25c bottle of Sloan's Liniment does it all—this because these ailments are symptoms, not diseases, and are caused by congestion and inflammation. If you doubt, ask those who use Sloan's Liniment, or better still, buy a 25c bottle and prove it. All druggists.

partisanshould play no part. If the voice of the people so recently heard shall carry with it the mandate of the people, non-partisanship in our state elections will be assured.

While political economists may often speak of the necessity of parties, there is none but desire a blind party worship. Blind partisanship is ever the refuge of the unworthy political, and it is he who dares not to exploit himself or his record that insists upon ignorant, unyielding and unwavering party fealty. Of late years we have emerged from the darkness and we have emancipated our cities and our counties. It is our fond hope that in this, as in other steps of progress, we may point the way for our sister states.

(Editor's Note.—Since this forceful message of Governor Johnson was presented to the legislature, it has developed that at least one of "our sister states" to which he alluded, has gone ahead of us in this reform. The State of Minnesota now elects its legislature along strictly non-partisan lines, which constitutes the major portion of non-partisan extension adopted by the California legislature, and now held up by referendum.

Reports from Minnesota, including numerous interviews with the governor of that state during his recent visit to the expositions, all agree that this system of a non-partisan legislature has, in every respect, proved an unqualified success.

However, the Editor shall be the sole judge as to the propriety of publishing any communications, and the Register assumes no responsibility for any views that may be expressed in this column.

Editor Register:—In the report of the Board of Supervisors, given in Tuesday's Register, in relation to the Forestry Commission, the stand taken by the Taxpayers' League is hardly stated correctly. We do not claim that the Forestry Commission is absolutely useless, but we do claim that it is a luxury that we are not able to maintain or pay for.

Where orchard trees are planted along our roads, they cannot be improved upon, they are not only things of beauty but sources of profit. It would be worse than a waste of money to remove these and plant expensive forest trees. The most beautiful drives we have, the ones most admired by the people from the East, are the ones bordered by the orange and walnut trees. So, as far as beautifying these drives is concerned, a forest commission would be worse than useless.

There are a few cases where land is not set to orchard trees and where it is probable that this will not be done in the near future. In these cases the planting and taking care of trees along the roadway would be an advantage, but this would be a luxury which we can dispense with for the present. With apricots selling at five and six cents a pound, with oranges and lemons barely paying the cost of production, with a short crop of walnuts last year and this crop not all sold, our producing taxpayers are not in a position to indulge in expensive luxuries, and the Forest Commission would certainly come under that head. It would be a very expensive luxury and this is what it will cost: for the first year of its existence it cost a little over $8000.

There were fifteen miles of roads set to trees during this time. This would be at a cost of $530 per mile. While it is true that in this $8000 was embraced quite an amount for automobiles and other material that will not have to be replaced in the near future, it is also true that more money should have been spent in taking care of the trees set out. In fact, Mr. Stephenson stated that the reason some of the trees were neglected was because they "didn't have money enough." So, when the taxpayer furnishes money enough to operate the Forestry Commission, it is absolutely safe to say that it will cost $500 per mile to maintain the trees, especially when it is considered that the older they grow the more attention they will require.

I believe it is contemplated to set out enough trees next season to make a total of 100 miles. This, at $500 per mile will make the next sum of $50,000 to be paid by the taxpayers. It is further contemplated to ultimately improve 500 miles in the county with forest trees at an annual cost of $250,000. With a shortage in both county and city funds to pay the running expenses of the two organizations, it would seem good policy to dispense with any further luxuries and stop the useless waste of the public money.

A. C. TIEDE.

Editor Register:—Having read the above, I wish to make a brief reply only. It is proposed to complete 100 miles of planting this winter. For that planting, for salaries, for maintaining the trees already planted, for maintaining the nursery and getting stock into shape for planting this year and the year following—for all of the expenses of the forestry work—the Board of Supervisors is considering making a levy of a cent and a half. The levy will not be over a cent and a half. That will give the department $7500—not $50,000, the estimate made in Mr. Tiede's article.

Daughters of Dorcas Enjoy
Delightful Meeting At Davies Home

Members of the Daughters of Dorcas Sunday School class of the First M. E. church and their popular teacher, Mrs. E. L. Warner, were delightfully entertained yesterday at the beautiful home of Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Davies of Edgewood road, their daughter, Miss Gladys Davies being hostess.

The living room, where the company gathered late in the afternoon, was decorated with fragrant roses and piano and gramophone music, combined with social chat, merrily whiled away the hours until all were invited into the dining room to partake of the delicious two-course supper, which won a shower of compliments on the culinary ability of Mrs. Davies and her daughter.

The table was centered by an exquisite punch bowl filled with a variety of California's choice fruit.

Those who gathered around the table were Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Warner and little daughter, Maydine, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Davies, Misses Helen Stanley, Leora Peters, Janie Jones and Gladys Davies.

The class voted this to be one of the best social meetings ever held and after the supper hour the entire company enjoyed the band concert at Birch Park.

Flagship Musician Here

John W. Stillwell, musician on the Colorado, arrived today on a ten-day furlough to visit his mother and sister, Mrs. Anna B. Stillwell and Miss Dorothy Stillwell, of 420 East Fifth street.

The leave of absence comes prior to the transfer of Mr. Stillwell to the Pacific fleet. Admiral Howard, formerly of the Santa Ana, has been recalled to Washington, Admiral Winslow taking his position.

Delightful Social Meeting

The Woman's Missionary Society of the Spurgeon Memorial M. E. church held one of their most delightful social meetings yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. W. H. James, 801 Spurgeon street.

Beautiful yellow field daisies lent floral charm to the cozy rooms where the company enjoyed readings by Mrs. Charles McNaught and Miss Linda Paul, fancy work and conversation also pleasantly whiling away the social hours.

In keeping with the chosen color scheme, refreshments of orange ice and delicious home-made cake were served before the meeting adjourned.

Greetings From Noble Grand

Torosa Lodge met last evening with good attendance and following a short business session the company enjoyed dominoes, hearts, casino and other interesting games.

Mesdames I. D. Annis, B. Uteley, Dora Martin and C. S. Shaw, members of the entertainment committee, served delicious fruitade and wafers and saw that everyone had a good time.

Torosa was pleased to receive greetings from the Noble Grand, Mrs. Clara Bullock, who has reached Chicago.

DELIGHTFUL LUNCHEON

One of the most enjoyable affairs of yesterday was given by Mrs. A. H. Small who entertained with a delightful luncheon and Kensington given in honor of her house guest, Mrs. Gary Ball, who will be remembered by many Santa Ana friends as Miss Lottie Dameron.

A delicious three course luncheon was served at 1 o'clock, the table being centered with a lovely bouquet of pink carnations.

Needlework was the interesting diversion during the afternoon enjoyed by the guest of honor, Mrs. Ball, Mrs. Fred Stewart of Blythe, Cal., Mrs. Ed. Bruns of Anaheim, Mrs. Harry Burgher of Los Angeles, Misses Gladys and Leona Freeman of Orange.

AMUSEMENTS

At the West End

Can a great dancer be a great actress? Is the question that Maud Allen has answered conclusively in her first appearance in motion pictures as star of the new production of Bosworth Incorporated, "The Rug Maker's Daughter," which will be seen at the new West End Theatre for three days beginning today, August 26.

That Maud Allen should succeed so brilliantly in an art she had never before attempted simply brings out the fact that the dances of Maud Allen, Pavlova, and such superwomen of art gain their distinction from the very fact that they are fundamentally dramatic. These women are greater than all others in the world because they are something more than mere physical phenomena. It is the force of their intellect which refines their dancing into such sheer elegance. They are living something even as they dance; dramatizing rhythm. It is nothing short of a mistake to think they are merely dancers. They are Bernhardt's set to music.

In the production of "The Rug Maker's Daughter," Maud Allen faced the ordeal of sharing the stage for the first time with other people; of accustoming herself to working with other people; of abandoning every method she had made her own and doing things another way; doing things a way someone else wanted; the way of the drama. But the perfect ease with which she fitted in; the sureness with which she got her effects, particularly in her love scenes with Forrest Stanley—all proved her an actress whose attainments would have insured her lasting fame had she ever cared to adopt the stage as a career.

"The Rug Maker's Daughter" accordingly presents the significant spectacle of a world famous dancer undergoing the test of an actress and, in her unequivocal success, revealing the profound affinity of the two arts.

BRAKEMAN WAS CURED

F. A. Wootsey, a railroad brakeman of Jacksonville, Texas, writes: "I was down with kidney trouble and rheumatism so bad I could hardly get up when I sat down. I had a backache all the time and was almost tired of living. I saw Foley Pills advertised. I took some and after a short time I was thoroughly cured and am having no more trouble." They act promptly and help kidneys throw poisonous waste products out of the blood. Thousands have written similar letters. Rowley Drug Co.—Advertisement.

RAILROAD TORPEDOES FOUND IN WAGON

Anaheim Gazette: While engaged in cultivating a ranch west of the river near Olive on Wednesday afternoon, Charles Dussourt found two dynamite torpedoes under a quantity of straw in his wagon box. Mr. Dussourt had completed his day's work, and had driven his team of horses to the wagon, which stood at the edge of the orchard. Before starting for his home, he proceeded to clean out the wagon box, there being a quantity of loose straw remaining from a bale of hay upon which his horses had been feeding. Under a quantity of straw he found two metallic encased dynamite torpedoes. How long the explosives had been in the wagon and how they came to be there he is unable to say, but he believes they were placed there with intent to do him injury. He says that if he had thrown his heavy iron implements upon them an explosion undoubtedly would have occurred and his wagon blown to pieces. If his horses had, while eating the hay, accidentally picked up one of the torpedoes its head might have been blown off. Mr. Dussourt has turned the explosives over to the police and an investigation is now under way.

These torpedoes are used by railway companies, being placed upon tracks as signals to the engineer to stop his train when the usual signals are not at hand. One torpedo is placed upon each of the tracks, the explosion being like that of a large fire cracker. These explosives, of course, do no damage to the railway's equip-

POTASH THROWN IN FACE BY MISTAKE

WEST ORANGE, N. J., Aug. 26.—Through an error of an assistant, a quantity of potash was thrown into the face of Thomas A. Edison yesterday afternoon while the inventor was working in one of his chemical plants at Silver Lake, near Newark. The solution caused severe smarting of the inventor's eyes, but Mrs. Edison said tonight that they were not injured and that Mr. Edison was again at work in his home.

Recently residents of the neighborhood have complained of the odors produced by the plants, and for the last two weeks Mr. Edison has been working night and day in an effort to reduce the odors.

Frederick Ott, one of his most experienced helpers, opened a wrong stop-cock and the solution of potash in a filter was thrown into Mr. Edison's face. The inventor bathed his face and eyes with water and first aid was administered from a kit kept handy.

Po-Do-Lax is Podo-phyl-in (May Apple), without the grip. It arouses the Liver, increases the flow of bile—Nature's antiseptic in the bowels. DELIGHTFUL OUTING IS HELD AT PARK

ORANGE, Aug. 25.—Circle No. 5 of the M. E. Ladies' Aid Society enjoyed a delightful picnic outing at the Orange county park yesterday, about thirty members being present. The day was a joyful one, actively spent with games and contests with a picnic party of about 125 members of the Baptist Sunday school from Long Beach. A baseball game between the ladies of the rival camps in the afternoon resulted in a decisive victory for Long Beach.

A splendid dinner was spread at noon and heartily appreciated. The program of entertainment during the afternoon was in charge of Mrs. John Widdowson, whose clever efforts elicited the donation of a watermelon as a mark of appreciation of her services.

At 4 o'clock the men arrived with the automobiles to bring the party home. Before they left, however, a wienie bake was held, fifty-one being present. The circle wishes to extend thanks to the men for their services in carrying the party back and forth to the park.

The American Woman's League met yesterday at the home of Mrs. L. E. Jones and Mrs. L. B. Githell at 313 East Palmyra avenue, where a fine time was enjoyed. A regular business meeting was held and the hostesses later served delicious fruit salad with whipped cream, lady fingers and macaroons. The rooms were attractively decorated for the event with geraniums.

VIGILANTES LOOK FOR FIREBUGS

CHINO, Cal., Aug. 26.—Vigilantes, a feature of California life in the "old days," made their appearance here last night when a gang of firebugs tried to destroy the city recently.

Several haystacks simultaneously burst into flames. Then houses on opposite sides of town began burning. When men hastened to fight one blaze another, far away, reddened the sky.

The vigilantes appeared. There was no call for them, no organization, but in a few minutes an orderly crowd was gathered in the middle of town, well armed. A search was begun. Sentries were posted. One of them caught the arsonists sneaking up to a haystack, and opened fire with a rifle.

The gangsters fled. Shortly other vigilantes took up the trail, and pursued the fugitives in an automobile. When bullets began flying the gasoline in the vigilantes' machine became exhausted, and the firebugs escaped in a fast motor.

But the search was ended. The vigilantes quietly patrolled the city. They lurked, silent shadows, in many a dark corner. Every person on the streets was sharply challenged and forced to explain himself.

The arson squad's handiwork was very apparent all through town, however, in blackened fields, heaps of debris and tangles of charred beams that had once been homes.

Authorities are at a loss to find a motive for the terrorist campaign. The firebugs vanished as quickly as they appeared. Had it not been for the armed volunteers, the whole town of Chino would have been laid waste, in the opinion of many residents.

LOS ANGELES PRODUCE MARKET

Larger walnut and almond crops are expected this year in California than were produced in 1914, and the almond crop in particular will be a record-breaker. The foreign nut situation, however, is an uncertain element and prices will be regulated to some extent in the local market by the way in which conditions shape themselves across the water. Number 1 softshell walnuts are now bringing the higher price of 19 1/2 and 20 cents a pound. Fruit and vegetable prices in Los Angeles remained unchanged yesterday and supply of almost all commodities continues plentiful. Imported Swiss cheese has become more valuable and wholesalers have raised their price to 40 cents a pound. A scarcer supply has also caused the advancement of Edam to $8.50 a case. Unstable conditions in the sugar market coupled with a weak demand resulted in another lowering of the price of the sweet staple yesterday. Local quotations were cut 20 cents all around and the new figures now read $6.25 for beet and $6.45 for cane and berry.

Our Gift to you of this $5 Bible

No difference how many Bibles you now have, this one MAKES PLAIN the subjects by pictures printed with the type; so of all others, this is the USEFUL Bible for all. PRESENTED by the

to its readers, who will ever be grateful for the opportunity offered by this grand educational distribution.

In addition to the 600 beautiful text illustrations are full page plates of the famous Tissot pictures in handsome colors. As Edward K. Bok, editor of the Ladies' Home Journal, says: "This Bible is not a meaningless picture book. The illustrations serve a distinct purpose. They enrich the text, but they do more—they intelligently EXPLAIN it, so that many a hitherto obscure passage assumes to thousands a new meaning through these eye-teaching pictures."

You will enjoy this Bible, whether you belong to the church or not, for its "eye-teaching" pictures make it of rare educational value to all.

This is what Abraham Lincoln said: "No library is complete without two certain books—the Bible and Shakespeare; hardly a quotation is used in literature that is not taken from one of these books."

EARLY SESSION OF THE Y. P. B. CONVENTION

Delegates From Southern California Here; Reception to Follow Evening Program

The third annual state convention of the Young People's Branch of the Women's Christian Temperance Union of Southern California opened the first session this morning in the United Presbyterian church, corner of Bush and Sixth streets, at 9:30 o'clock. Delegates from all over Southern California are present, over seventy-five in number, representing their various Unions.

The church is beautifully decorated with ferns, bright colored sunflowers, flags and banners, the color scheme being yellow and green. The decorating was under the leadership of Mrs. E. P. Stafford. Mrs. J. N. Anderson, with the assistance of a committee of the "Y's" had charge of the registration. Mrs. W. E. Ward met the trains and escorted all delegates to the church. Owing to the illness of the Y. P. B. secretary, Mrs. F. H. McElree, who is not able to be present, Mrs. J. N. Anderson has very ably filled her place and the success of the convention is largely due to her efforts. The young people have responded very willingly and are showing much interest in the temperance cause by giving their time and presence in attendance at this convention during the vacation season.

Mrs. Hattie Doughty, the state secretary, has left nothing undone to have the very best program that was possible to arrange. The different unions of the county have very kindly arranged to serve the meals in the church for the benefit of the young people. Anaheim served a very appetizing noon meal today. Seventy-five young people were served. Mrs. L. C. Yoeman, president, was hostess. The evening meal will be served by Santa Ana Union with Mrs. Viola Norman as hostess. The committee of young ladies from the Santa Ana Y's did the serving.

The convention is being presided over by the President, Cecil Noll, a very bright young man from Los Angeles, who is assisted by a splendid corps of officers, all seated on the platform.

The morning session consisted of reports of officers, appointing of committees, the chairman of the committees being as follows: Credential, Mrs. D. Gervais; courtesies, Miss Isabel Anderson; membership, Miss Alita Williams; Publication, Miss Gladys Gervais; resolutions, Mr. Will Richards; timekeeper, Mr. Abe S. Hollinger. Two young girls, Beatrice Anderson and Virginia Russell, responded graciously as pages.

The hostesses of the convention was introduced by the courtesy committee, Miss Isabel Anderson. A beautiful solo was sung by Miss Bernice Powell of Long Beach, who possesses a very fine voice. After this splendid treat adjournment was taken for lunch.

The afternoon meeting was called to order by the President, Cecil Noll, and was opened by song by the Y. P. B. chorus, and devotions by Miss Vida Gard. Greetings were given by the county president, Mrs. Bell Rogers, and Mrs. Viola Norman, president of Santa Ana Union. The President, Cecil Noll, gave a very fine address.

This evening promises to be very interesting. The welcome address will be given by William Sebastian, President of Santa Ana Y. P. B., with response by Miss Grace Mosher of Long Beach; organ solo, Harry Warner of Santa Ana; address, "Sane Amusements," by E. M. Brown, County Y. M. C. A. Secretary; solo by Mrs. Winibler. A reception will follow the evening program.

SAYS THAT MAN WHOM HE GAVE JOB STOLE A HORSE LAST NIGHT

Ben Nimmo Looking For a Stoop-shouldered, Red-headed Ranch Hand

B. F. Nimmo, who has a ranch lease near the Palisades Hotel, wants to locate a certain stoop-shouldered, red-headed man. He wants the man not so much because he wants the man as it is that he wants a saddle horse that he thinks the man has stolen.

Two or three days ago there appeared at Nimmo's ranch house a stranger who asked for work. Nimmo put him to work. Yesterday evening the employee went across the bay in the ferry. As Sheriff Jackson got the story this morning, the man returned about 11 o'clock, much the worse for liquor. He saddled a horse and rode away.

The warrant is for John Clark. The horse is a bay with a letter "J" and a figure heart brand.

BIRCH PARK CONCERT HIGHLY APPRECIATED

An appreciative audience was on hand at Birch Park last night to enjoy the concert of the Santa Ana Band. Under the capable leadership of Director W. Frank Harris, the musicians won much applause. Particularly well received was Laurendeau's march, "Guiding Star," which was rendered in a very spirited manner. One of the request numbers, "King Dodo," met with popular approval. The sacred potpourri, "Joy to the World" (Barnhouse), was skillfully played, and was given a hearty round of applause.

LARGE REWARD DID NOT WORK AS EXPECTED

Uncle Sam has been wondering what has become of all the informers. From the Treasury Department recently came the answer: "We're paying them too much money."

Prior to August 21, 1913, one who gave information leading to conviction of a moonshiner received only $10 and was happy. Then the fee was boosted to $50 just to encourage others to give away their lawless neighbors, but strange to say, the increase has had a markedly contrary effect. With the business all but gone to the howlows, Secretary McCauley restored the old fee. The result is awaited with interest.

WILL AMERICAN NATIONAL BALL CLUBS MAKE A PRICE CUT?

NEW YORK, Aug. 26.—Organized baseball has its eye glued to the knot-hole. The knot-hole is about the size of a dime and in the Federal's fence, O. B. is mightily interested in knowing how many ten-cent baseball fans there are in these United States.

Ever since Jim Gilmore kicked his entire collection of hats into the ring, O. B.'s clockers have been working diligently in the various Federal yards. Why should O. B. be so mightily interested? It hasn't been very many moons ago since Ban Johnson was tuning up his basso for the Fed's funeral dirge.

Something the Matter
The reason is apparent—O. B. has come to the realization that something is the matter with baseball, and there are enough good business heads in O. B.'s ranks to want to find out what it is. So it's going to see if Dr. Gilmore has properly diagnosed the case. Dr. Gilmore's diagnosis being that the dear old public is tired of paying big prices to see games.

That, however, raises a question in the minds of a lot of baseball men as to what the Johnson-Tener combine will do if it ultimately finds that the Fed's are right.

What'll They Do
With high salaries, high running expenses, high cost of equipment and various other high departments the business end of baseball, can O. B. exhibit its wares to the fans at a dime a throw? A careful canvas of opinions outside the ranks of either of the warring factions reveals few who think it can. That is, unless something is cut—either the players' salaries or the magnates' divvy. There are a lot of baseball clubs losing money this year with the two-bits minimum.

Wouldn't Work Out
Close to one thousand fans would have to crowd into the Detroit park every day—at 10 cents a head—to pay Tyus Cobb's salary for that day, because Tyus gets paid at the rate of nearly one hundred dollars per diem. And Sam Crawford, Bobby Veach, Jean Dubuc, George Dauss, Ownie Bush and a dozen other players are getting good salaries.

300,000 Fans Daily? Huh!
On the same basis, 300,000 fans would have to pass through the turnstiles at the Polo Grounds in a season to pay the yearly salary of John McGraw. McGraw is popularly supposed to be drawing down $30,000 for his labors with the Giants. And Christy Mathewson, Larry Doyle, Fred Merkle and Hans Lobert are not working for their health.

The Fed's have practically the same payroll, taking the players into consideration. Cy Falkenberg is pulling $7500 yearly, Bennie Kauff is getting about the same, Joe Tinker gets a lot more than either of them, and so do Hal Chase, Leo Magee and a score of other big men in the third league outfit.

Feds Going Broke
The Fed's haven't made any money this year. Jim Gilmore says they don't expect to—that the Federal League backers don't care to, as they are in baseball for sport. Mr. Gilmore, undoubtedly, is trying to kid himself.

It has been suggested by O. B. adherents that the Fed's 10-cent ante is the dying grapple of the third circuit—that it is the last frenzied sputter to get out with their skins whole. This gets a laugh from the other side of the fence.

The real reason isn't apparent to those on the outside.

NEW MARK IS SET BY WALKER IN FISHING

Victor Walker of the local sporting goods firm of Hill & Walker, is confident he has set a fishing mark which will give his old-time rival, Dr. M. A. Patton, a great deal of trouble to equal. Last Sunday, in the 9-9, off the mouth of Newport Bay, Walker landed a 24-pound yellowtail in eight minutes. Walker used regulation light tackle and 250 yards of last year's line. He used the old line in order to show that the kind of line he sells in his store is the kind that lasts. Furthermore, Walker says he has three witnesses who saw him pull the stunt. They are Commodore Beard, George Loggins of Los Angeles and Charles Schwall.

ARE GOING A-TROUTING IN TRABUCO CANYON

Two trout fishing parties left for the Trabuco today. In one party are Mr. and Mrs. Walter Q. Pippas and son Wilbur, who were taken to the canyon by Rev. Paul E. Wright. In the other are Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Scholes and George A. Long of Los Angeles and Miss Beulah Pippas. On Saturday Rev. Wright will motor to Trabuco to bring the Pippas party back to this city. Scholes stoutly declares that he and others of his party landed 84 trout in the Trabuco about three weeks ago. He also says that some of the trout measured eleven inches. He is taking the present trip in order to prove that he was telling the unadulterated and simple truth about the excellence of troutling at Trabuco at the present time.

PAT MORAN, manager of the rejuvenated Phillies of the National League, is certain he will win the pennant. But he is no more confident than is Hugh Jennings of Detroit. Baseball experts figure that the fight in the two leagues is between these clubs. The Boston Braves may come fast in the latter end of the season as they did last year, but they are not in the same condition. The Chicago White Sox also have hopes, but many of their partisans fear the team has shown its best for the season.

WILBERT ROBINSON-BROOKLYN. HUGH J. JENNINGS-DETROIT

EXPERT SAYS RUBBER HAS TEMPERAMENT

"Speaking of guarantees on tires," says an official of the B. F. Goodrich Company, Akron, Ohio, "every brand of tire can show a few instances of 10,000 or more mileage service.

"These are usually made the most of. But every manufacturer could, if he would, show thousands of cases of short mileage from other tires bearing the same identical brand. Because, rubber is almost 'temperamental' in its response to slight variations of treatment in the making.

"The human nature which must work rubber into tires is frail, and variable, in the manipulation of processes that cannot be carried out by machinery.

"Hence the wide difference found between the mileage of tires bearing the same brand, and made from the same identical materials, in the same identical shop.

"Even the slight and invisible, moisture of perspiration on the fingers of a workman, when he touches the fabric, may result in failure of the cotton fabric layers to cohere, at that spot, when the heat of vulcanizing converts that perspiration into steam.

"A few degrees too little heat, in vulcanizing, will leave the rubber tread too soft for toughness and maximum wear.

"A few degrees too much will 'overcure' it, leaving the rubber too dry and hard for resilience and wear, so that it will grind away.

"These are only three of the hundred slight shadings in the treatment of rubber tires that determine the mileage they will give from the same materials and same manufacturing cost.

"These are some of the intangible, but vital, things that our 45-year experience, in the making of rubber, has equipped us to appreciate and control, with the care and precision their mileage results to tire users justify."

SEVEN DEAD, MORE THAN FORTY-EIGHT INJURED IN COUNTY AUTO CRASHES SINCE FEBRUARY 27

Speed, Recklessness, Glaring Lights Claim Frightful Toll On Highways

Wrecks Increase In Number As Summer Wears On Toward Autumn

Beginning with and including February 27 of this year, seven people have been killed and more than forty-eight injured in automobile and motorcycle accidents in various parts of Orange county.

One of the six deaths was attributable to glaring lights, two to carelessness, one to speeding and carelessness, one to defective brakes, one to an unknown cause and one to cutting in.

At least four of the accidents in which persons were injured or automobiles damaged were due to carelessness, four to cutting in, three to defective steering gears, one to defective brakes, two to speeding, two to bursting tires, one to reckless driving, one to fog, two to glaring lights and two to the destruction of the views of drivers. What caused the remainder of the accidents has not been ascertained.

Epidemic of Accidents
Since February 27, when Karl Wenzel was killed at La Habra, the epidemic of accidents has steadily increased. Wenzel met his death when the buggy in which he was riding was struck by a motor truck. Wenzel carried no tail light on his buggy. The truck driver claimed that he was blinded by the lights of an approaching motor car and was unable to see Wenzel's buggy until too late to avoid the crash.

On March 11 C. M. McClintock was killed at Greenville when his automobile was struck by a Pacific Electric car. McClintock was partially deaf and did not notice the trolley car until too late.

None but minor accidents occurred until the morning of March 22, when Mrs. W. E. Beckwith of El Toro was ground to death under the wheels of a Santa Fe train at the El Toro grade crossing and Mrs. Fred Beckwith, her sister-in-law, was severely injured. The exact cause of the tragedy was never ascertained. It is believed that the driver of the automobile that was wrecked did not see the approaching train until too late.

Growing Number of Wrecks
Beginning the first part of April the number of accidents began to increase rapidly. The majority of wrecks since that time have occurred either on Saturday, Sunday or Monday, when travel on the county's highways was heaviest.

On April 9 seven persons were injured on the road between Seal Beach and Westminster. A jitney bus to which a trailer was attached, turned too sharply in front of an automobile, causing the mishap.

There were accidents on April 17 and 18, but none of a serious nature. On April 24 Sam Henry and Frank Barga each sustained a fractured leg when they were thrown from their motorcycle in a collision with an automobile. The cause of the wreck was not ascertained.

On May 23 Mrs. A. F. Letin of Cypress sustained a broken shoulder at Garden Grove when the automobile in which she was riding struck a phone pole as a result of a defective steering gear.

Due to Speeding
From then on a number of minor accidents followed. None was serious, however, until June 13 when Miss M. Lockhart of Santa Monica sustained a badly wrenched back and other injuries and O. F. Jewett a broken arm and lacerations about the head when the roadster in which he was speeding on the Laguna road turned turtle.

On June 15, an auto driven by D. G. Cole, who had as passengers his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. S. Shaw and the daughter of the latter couple, Mrs. Ray Barkhurst, of Portland, Oregon, was stuck on its end in a ditch on East First street. The auto was badly damaged, and all the passengers were injured.

Mrs. Barkhurst was the most seriously hurt of the party; her collar bone and shoulder blade were broken, her right side badly lacerated, and her whole system received a severe shock. Mr. and Mrs. Shaw were bruised all over their bodies, and Mrs. Cole received a terrible injury to her back. The accident occurred in an open ditch across First street. There was no light whatever to show that a ditch was being dug in that place.

On June 16, Mary Rastede sustained several broken ribs and other injuries when she was struck by an automobile near the corner of Baker and Fifth streets. Miss Rastede had become confused at the approach of the automobile, dismounted hurriedly from her wheel and had been struck. A number of others were injured on the same date in other accidents in various parts of the city and county.

The next serious automobile accident to occur took place at the Southern Pacific crossing at Anaheim on June 21, when W. T. Mathews was killed and three others in his automobile were injured. Speeding and carelessness caused the wreck.

William Swim, 11, sustained a concussion of the brain when he was thrown from his bicycle by an automobile on West Fifth street June 26. Mrs. J. M. Dwyer of Whittier sustained a broken collar bone on June

Phillips Killed
Charles Phillips was killed on the Stearns lease at Brea, July 6, when his automobile went off a grade, due to defective brakes.

Harrison Malicote sustained a fractured leg, July 5, on the Irvine road when he was thrown from his motorcycle by a careless motorist.

While playing on South Main street near Dehl on July 4 Leon Stuart was struck by a passing automobile. He sustained a fractured leg.

Five men of Artesia were injured July 11 in a head-on collision between automobiles on the Seal Beach road. The accident was caused by one automobilist taking up more than his share of the road.

Three were injured and an automobile destroyed by fire on the Newport road in a head-on collision between an automobile and a motorcycle on the morning of July 12. Fog caused the wreck.

A large number of minor mishaps occurred in various parts of the county after that but were not of a serious nature until that which happened on the Anaheim road on July 31, when one man sustained a fractured arm and a man and woman sustained cuts in a buggy-automobile collision caused by a defective steering gear.

Injuries, Death
On August 8 Mr. and Mrs. Bert O. Sutton were severely injured when they were thrown from their motorcycle at the corner of First and Sycamore streets. Sutton's view was obstructed by the building at the northeast corner and this caused him to collide with an automobile.

On the same evening J. E. Willson was thrown from his bicycle by a passing jitney bus opposite the Southern California Sugar Company's plant on South Main street and severely injured.

Last Sunday Meyer S. Rafield of Los Angeles was killed on South Main street when the jitney bus in which he was riding struck a buggy and overturned. On the same day, in an automobile-passenger truck collision on the Seal Beach road, Ole Hampton of Anaheim received injuries from which he died Monday. J. A. Van Winkle of Huntington Beach sustained a broken collar bone. His wife was bruised.

LOOK OUT FOR FIRE!

Special warnings have been sent out by John D. Maxfield, acting forest supervisor of the Cleveland National Forest, to campers and hunters to be careful about fire during the remainder of the dry season, and more especially the first of September, when the dove and deer seasons open. Do not leave campfires open. Do not leave campfires until they are put out. Do not throw away lighted cigar or cigarette stubs. Do not throw away lighted matches.

INTERCHANGEABLE TOP NEW COLE FEATURE

The Cole Motor Car Company announces a demountable Sedan top and hereafter will be in a position to furnish owners of touring cars with a closed top which can be placed on the car with little difficulty. The new top has been manufactured with the utmost care, and every precaution has been taken to insure the easy transition of a Cole touring car into a real winter limousine.

The new top is not heavy and can be fastened securely to the body in a very few minutes. This feature enables the owner of a touring car to operate it with comfort throughout all the various seasons and eliminates the necessity of either storing the car in the winter or facing long cold drives with only the ordinary rain curtains as a protection.

The sedan top has been so constructed as to fit the Cole Eight touring car body perfectly, making the interior of the car as warm and snug in the winter as the interior of the home. It also allows the full use of the disappearing auxiliary seats which give the car its full seven-passenger seating capacity. The new top has no center division and therefore the family touring car is still the family winter car. A dome light in the center of the top illuminates the interior.

The top also is equipped with the double rain-vision windshield while the same the Berline Limousine, while the sash lights in all four doors can be easily lowered should the need arise.

In placing the winter top on the car it is only necessary to remove the summer top and the touring car windshield. The change can be made in a very short time.

$250,000 SPEEDWAY PLAN AT ST. LOUIS

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Aug. 26.—If the present plans of local capitalists and men from Cincinnati and Indianapolis are carried out, Louisville will have a $250,000 motor speedway, with two-mile oval course. Property aggregating 300 acres already has been purchased and leased immediately south of and adjoining the Douglas Park race track.

Incorporation of the Louisville Automobile Speedway and organization of the controlling company will be completed within 30 days, it is announced, and work will be started on the course within the following 30 days. The promoters announce that the speedway will be ready for a spring meet.

TWIN-CITY SPEEDWAY BEING FINISHED TODAY

ST. PAUL, Minn., Aug. 26.—Work was being completed today putting into shape St. Paul's mammoth speedway, at a cost of $1,000,000. Sept. 4, a 500-mile race, with automobile drivers of world fame, will be held. The names of Resta, de Palma, Oldfield, Wilcox, Cooper, Porporato, Anderson, Bergdoll and Wheeler appear in the entries. The purse will be $50,000, of which $20,000 will go to the winner. There will be 75,000 grand stand seats, 18,000 bleacher seats and room for parking automobiles holding 25,000 persons. The track is two miles long in the shape of a flattened ellipse, and will be paved with concrete to a depth of six inches.

DOVE AND BUCK SEASON OPENS SEPTEMBER 1

Close Watch Is Going to Be Kept For Hunters Who Go Forth Seeking Quail

DEER REPORTED SCARCE

While Birds Are Fairly Plentiful, One Day's Shooting Will Scatter Them

Before another pink sheet day rolls around there will be the counting of doves and the trailing home of those who have wandered far over rugged mountain and wooded canyon in search of the festive buck.

September 1 comes on Wednesday of next week. A half-hour before sunrise on that day the season in which doves and bucks may be killed will open. Mind you, the law says a half-hour before sun-up. That does not mean an hour. It does not mean just as early in the morning as one can look forth upon a sycamore limb and tell the difference between a bird and a leaf.

Methinks that last year there were a good many doves killed a few minutes before the opening of the season. That is an unfair trait on the part of certain enthusiastic hunters. They think that by blazing away they can get a few birds the start of all others who are out upon that day.

Lookout for Sooners
Last year there were a number of hunters who took solemn oaths that if the sooners break loose too early in the morning this year there will be some arrests made and the sooners brought into a speaking acquaintance with Justice Cox, an acquaintance not at all enjoyed by Madame Schumann-Heink, Justice of the Peace Underwood of Long Beach and certain other celebrities.

On September 1 the season will open for tree squirrels and mountain quail. Since there are no tree squirrels in the mountains of this county and since the few dozen mountain quail that there are in the mountains are safely enclosed in the boundaries of the Cleveland game preserve, the opening and the closing of those seasons are of no great interest so far as hunting within this county is concerned.

Last year a few bucks were killed in the Santa Ana mountains. Altogether the total was probably not over six or possibly eight. Bucks were exceedingly scarce and hard to get last year, and reports from the mountains indicate that they are just as scarce this year.

The season for deer closes on Sept. 30, and the bag limit for the season is two bucks.

However, we are willing to put up a leather medal embossed with a likeness of Game Warden Adkinson. Same to go to the first man who kills two bucks in the Santa Ana mountains this season. Two to one that Adkinson gets the medal.

Doves Not Scarce
Doves are reported to be fairly plentiful. They received a huge slaughter last year the first day, and after that they were so badly scattered that it was hard to tell what became of them. The open season for doves will end on Nov. 30. The per day limit is fifteen.

Remember, gentle hunter, that the season for quail and for rabbits is not open on Sept. 1. Keep that severely in mind, old chap, if you are inclined to fudge a bit. We are here to make a bet that there will be more arrests made this fall for shooting quail out of season than there has been for some years past. Quail season will not open until Oct. 15.

LAST WATER CARNIVAL OF SEASON TONIGHT

The last water carnival of the season will be staged in the Athletic Club plunge this evening. These little water fests have proven interesting and enjoyable entertainments and a large crowd is expected at tonight's affair.

The program will consist of diving, wrestling, canoe tilting, pyramid building, tug of war and a few other stunts to make up a good hour's entertainment.

CAR IDENTIFICATION
A large letter, or figure, embossed on both sides of the hood, makes a very conspicuous identification mark that is difficult to conceal. It may be made with a prick-punch from the inner side, following exact lines, with the metal lying flat upon a block of wood. With a little care a very pretty effect can be obtained.

Thirty warrants were sworn out in Danville, Ill., last week against chauffeurs, driving cars for hire, who failed to take the state examination. The action followed the presence of the state examiners, who spent a week in Danville giving examinations and issuing permits. Seventy-five licenses were issued, but it was estimated that forty-five failed to make their appearance.

MIDDLEWEIGHT TANGLE IS TO BE CLEARED UP SOON

NEW YORK, Aug. 26.—All things come to those who wait. It's an aged wheeze; apparently one that has a little truth concealed about its person.

The pugilistic world has been waiting, lo! these many years for the clouds to roll away from the middleweight tangle and reveal a champion. In a seemingly unending procession Eddie McGorty, Jimmy Clabby, Mike Gibbons, Jack Dillon, Al McCoy, George Chip, Young Ahearn and scores of dimmer lights have passed before the assembled multitude and then faded, bickering and quarreling, into the background.

Champ Soon Due

But by this time next month there should be a middleweight champion for the public to shove its shekels through the wicker gate to see. According to the old reliable dope the championship lies between three men—Mike Gibbons—Pacey McFarland and Lee Dacey. Who is that guy? He's the guy that put the sleep-kiss on Eddie McGorty's chin down Australia not long since, thereby winning for himself at least consideration.

Classy Thing

The field has practically narrowed down to these three. George Chip is too aged. Young Ahearn is a mite too heavy, and besides, he's going where there is some real fighting, and no weight bickering—to Europe. Jimmy Clabby should horn into the argument somewhere, but seems hasn't displayed his wares for several months, and in his last few times out he didn't win a lot of glory for himself. That leaves Al McCoy and Jack Dillon. Al admits he owns the championship now, as a result of his hanging a knockout on George Chip. Al is about the only one does admit it, however. His actions out of the ring are about the only thing that stamp him a champ—he seldom fights and he demands big chunks of money when he does.

Dillon Out of It

If Jack Dillon could still make 158 pounds and be strong, he'd have to be considered in this thing all the way. But he can't, at least he hasn't for months, and doesn't seem to care to.

Why not have the winner of the Pacey-Mike affair meet this Dacey and settle it all. Then there's be a real champ in every department for the first time in many years.

SPARK PLUG LEAKS

The best way to repair a leaky spark plug is to get a new one. If the leak is persistent, the trouble probably is caused by irregular surfaces which can not be made gas-tight.

FORD EMPLOYEES LEAVE FOR BATTLE GROUNDS

Nearly a hundred men from the factory and branches of the Ford Motor Company of Canada recently left Ford, Ont., with the Canadian contingent as officers, privates, members of the hospital staff, chauffeurs and engineers. Several hundred Ford employees in England are at the front.

BOY BOWLER SCORES 244 ON BEACH ALLEY

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Aug. 26.—Huntington Beach boasts of one of the best boy bowlers in the bowling game. He is Stanley Hutchinson, aged 13, and weighing 82 pounds. The boy works in the Keener alleys and helps to support himself and his widowed mother.

Stanley is only four feet nine and a half inches tall but it is getting so that when he steps up to bowl the spectators expect to see the pins fall. His high score is 244. He uses the big balls and although he does not get much force behind them he gets them down in the right place.

RECOMMENDS NEW SET SAFETY FIRST LAWS

NEW YORK CITY, Aug. 26.—The Safety First Society of New York has concluded an investigation of street accidents during several months and has asked the board of aldermen to pass ordinances on the following:

Providing for the elimination of dazzling head and side lights on motor cars; requiring parallel parking at the curb for all vehicles of the delivery type; requiring the use of mirrors on all motor vehicles in New York; requiring owners of all motor vehicles with chain drive to enclose the chains with suitable guards; making it a misdemeanor for any person to "bitch on" or trespass upon a motor truck or horse-drawn vehicle, unless employed by the owner of such vehicle.

The society also favored provision in buildings for runways for loading and unloading vehicles, so as to relieve street congestion.

DOUBT AS TO SUCCESS OF MONTREAL'S BOUTS

NEW YORK, Aug. 26.—Montreal is making a bid for the pugilistic spotlight. Twenty round battles to a decision are going to be allowed there before it comes time to put on your heaves.

Word from Walter Burke, formerly manager of several fighters, was that he had secured permission from the city authorities to stage marathon events, and he has taken over the Hochelaga A. A. there with prospects for a good season.

Montreal in wartime, with most of the men at the front, doesn't look like an especially alluring field, but Burke is confident he can put it over. The club could draw some patronage from New York for a championship affair, but it's too far away for Gotham sports to travel to see the smaller fry, especially if they're going to see decision fights here.

TEST FOR HEADLIGHTS IN MASSACHUSETTS

BOSTON, Mass., Aug. 26.—The regulation of motor headlights in Massachusetts will probably go into effect about October 1 or shortly thereafter, according to the present plans of the Massachusetts highway commission. At the headlight test a few nights ago there were forty cars with devices put through a series of maneuvers over various roads. First the cars were started through one of the long avenues of the country club, where there are no lights. Chairman Sohler and Commissioners Synan and Kemp, of the highway commission, stood in the road and halted the cars. The three men stood about 30 feet in front of each machine when it stopped and then noted how far up their bodies the lights threw their rays. Then they stood on the roadside and asked the drivers if they could see them with their lamps.

Some devices were operated by a foot pedal, others by hand, and others were merely the lens or globes in the headlights. There were men present from Detroit, Chicago and Los Angeles with devices and all the big accessory men were represented through their dealers.

KATZENJAMMER STUFF

CINCINNATI, Aug. 26.—"Billy" is an honorable goat when sober, but he devoured 1000 new hilarity hall tickets. Then "Hogan," a vaudeville monkey, untethered him at the Chester Park theater. Miss Marie Chapron, actress, has sued Shirley Alvarado, the goat's owner, for $551 damages. Here's what Billy ate: One set of $8 pink tights, a lovely pair of $6 silk stockings, $28 worth of etcetera. Miss Chapron's injured feelings are estimated at $500.

A BATTERY HOLDER

For a Model T Ford a metal basket, made of one-eighth by one-inch strips, and hung under the foot boards in front of the rear seat, gives a convenient place to carry a storage battery. It should be bolted to the floor boards near the left side of the frame, and arranged so that the board right over the battery may be lifted to remove the battery.

Officers of the club state that they have taken steps to apprehend the men.

DOPESTERS CANT SEE PACKEY'S CHANCES FOR A MINUTE

NEW YORK, Aug. 26.—Packey McFarland has a lot to fight for when he steps into the ring with Mike Gibbons, the St. Paul wraith, on the night of Sept. 11. He will be battling for three, thinks, for any one of which the majority of boxers nowadays would be willing to have their roofs caved in.

First—There is the $17,500 which becomes his property the minute he slips from his bathrobe and steps onto the ring.

Second—There is the almost certainty that he will be accorded the midweight championship by popular acclaim if he wins.

Third—There is the glory, if he wins, of being the only boxer of his kind in the world—a boxer who after long absence from the ring came back and defeated a man who was admittedly the best of his class in the country; in short, a "come-back."

Some purse! Aye, aye. Epitaphs Jim Corbett and Jim Jeffries tried to come back after a several years' absence. So did a lot of others. And they all got the same thing—an epitaph on their pugilistic tombstone which gave the information that he had been a great fighter in his day.

Can't See Packey Veteran ring men can't see Packey's chances at all. They base their assertion that the stockyards wonder is in for a lacing on the fact that no boxer ever has come back, and on the fact that Packey hasn't been boxing very much in the past two years, whereas the Shadowlike Mike has been fighting pretty steadily in that time.

"A man can't fight unless he's been fighting," said an old ring man today. "It doesn't take two years for a man to lose his judgment of distance and his hitting eye when he's not in the ring. Didn't I sit in Carson City and see Bob Fitzsimons put the old smack on Jim Corbett, simply because Fitz had been fighting for two years steadily, where Jim had been idling? Fitz's condition wasn't any better than Jim's, but his eyes were."

Mike at Zenith "Again, Packey is going to meet a man in Mike who is at the zenith of his power. The St. Paul lad has been coming up for six years and he's now at the top of his career. Packey was at the top of his when he left the ring."

"Yes, we'll admit that Packey has lived a mighty clean life. He hasn't boozed, nor smoked, nor any of that stuff. Neither have a lot of other young chaps, but they couldn't stand ten rounds of Mike Gibbons' game at that."

"But she's going to be a bird of a scrap, anyhow, ain't she?"

That's what all New York thinks—that "she's going to be a bird of a scrap."

CHASE EQUINES OFF ST. LOUIS' STREETS

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Aug. 26.—Horses are to be chased off the streets in St. Louis to make way for the motor car. After a detailed investigation of traffic conditions on Locust street, one of the main thoroughfares of St. Louis, and on which almost half the motor car and accessory business of the city is done, the director of streets has recommended to the board of police commissioners that the use of horse-drawn vehicles be prohibited on Locust street west of Eighteenth street.

ASSOCIATION LOOKING FOR MOTOR THIEVES; TIMES ARE CHANGING

Horse Thieves Getting Very Scarce and Car Stealers More Numerous

John Wall, of Parsons, Kans., for five years president of the National Anti-Horse Thief association, declared recently that there had been so little for the association to do that it has found outlets for the organization in recovering stolen motor cars. This duty is particularly devolved upon it because so many of the farmers ordinarily served now have motor cars of more value than their horses. As the tractors increase on the farms the horses decline. The various anti-horse thief associations in Kansas receive reports from the police departments of stolen motor cars and assist materially in their recovery. The city police departments also cooperate in recovering cars stolen from the rural district.

ONE CAN OF BEANS SCANTY FOOD SUPPLY

Orange News: One small can of beans as rations for six people for 24 hours is somewhat lacking in nourishment, according to a party of Orange and Los Angeles people who have just returned from a camping trip to Bear Valley.

In the party were Mr. and Mrs. K. E. Watson of Orange and their guests, Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Watson, of Plainfield, Ind.; Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Watson and two sons of Los Angeles, and Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Wedemeyer of Los Angeles.

The party camped at Little Bear Lake for several days, then moved on to Green Valley. With the camp there as a base, they started on a fishing expedition to Holcomb Creek, taking only light provisions for a lunch.

After a hard climb from the summit of the ridge down to the creek, the party separated, Mr. and Mrs. K. E. Watson and Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Watson fishing up creek while the other six went down.

The up-creek party took most of the supplies, those going down having only the can of beans. They expected to meet later for lunch. After descending a very steep shelf, the latter party found themselves unable to return, so set out for camp by way of the government trail lower down the creek. Darkness overtook them, however, and they were compelled to camp. They lighted fires and slept on the rocks, being hard put to keep warm. They reached camp next morning, nearly exhausted by their experience.

ALL CARS IN FRANCE TAXED DESPITE WAR

PARIS, Aug. 26.—French motor car owners are eligible for the payment of all motor taxes, notwithstanding the war. In the whole of France there are restrictions on motoring; in many districts it is forbidden to use a car; in the parts of France farthest removed from the battle zone it is necessary to have a pass renewable fortnightly. Hundreds of cars are lying idle owing to the absence of their owners at the war. On all these cars taxes have to be paid.

The claim has been put forward that where permission to use a car cannot be granted, or where the absence of the owner has made the use of the car impossible, taxes should not be exacted. This claim, however, is not admitted. Ownership of the car entails taxation. As the average motor car tax in France is $30 to $35, the matter is of some importance to owners.

The same situation has arisen in Switzerland, where for the last five months of 1914, private motor traffic was forbidden. In the canton of Geneva, five-twelfths of the taxes have been remitted, thus owners do not pay for the period during which they were not allowed to use their cars. In other cantons, the taxes are maintained for various reasons. In several cases the tax is so low, being about $4 a year, that the authorities consider it is not necessary to make a reduction. In other cases, it is stated that the circumstances are exceptional and motor car owners must take their share of supporting the state. When cars are requisitioned temporarily for military service they are not taxed during that period.

NEW TYPE OF THIEF STEALS TOOL KITS

A new type of thief is worrying the railroad companies in Illinois. He breaks into cars loaded with motor cars fresh from the factory and steals the kit of tools that goes with the car. This kit is worth from $5 to $10 and easily can be sold for a few dollars to any farmer of the vicinity. The thief is not discovered until the car is unloaded, when it is up to the railroad to make the loss good.

JOHN LECK'S ADVENTURES AT CAMP BALDY

John Leck, returned from Camp Baldy, has contributed the following: I arrived in San Antonio canyon some time ago, pitched my tent and posted a decorated shingle which read as follows: "Camp Wait a While—Fresh fish once a year."

After many lonesome days and nights, accompanied only by the rushing waters of the creek and the gambols of the speckled beauties, a select delegation arrived from Long Beach, all apparently in good spirits. The delegation consisted of five families—the Craigs, the Woods, the Douglasses, and two of the Booths. All were nice jolly people out for a season of real camp life. I would like to have them all for permanent neighbors. Should you come to this camp and want to find some Long Beach people, don't go through the crowd asking for them. That is bad mountain etiquette, not good manners and not necessary. Just watch the people drinking. When you see one stir a large spoonful of sulphur in his cup of water, you have your man.

I ventured to ask one of them why they did this and they answered: "It makes it taste so home-like."

Next to arrive was a caravan from Watts, a vehicle with three big wheels and a dragpole, two lean, cross-eyed old ponies, two small men with long whiskers, four large fat women, six unwashed kids with well ventilated suits, six dogs, all yellow, a baby burro badly loaded. They camped somewhere up stream and shortly after the popular bathing hours we tested the water in the creek. It showed a rise in temperature of many degrees and, like Jacob's coat, was of many colors.

One-half mile up the north fork of the canyon was located the Y. W. C. A. camp of some half hundred young ladies. They were chaperoned by proper officers of that organization with a time limit in camp of thirty days. It was so arranged that each day ten girls whose time had expired would leave in the morning and ten new ones would take their places in the evening. On about August 1 the Juniors broke camp and as they fled away towards their homes the campers stood in line along the trail and bid good-bye to the nicest, most lady-like troupe of young women it had ever been their pleasure to meet and the best wishes of us all will follow them to their destinies.

Now the day of jubilee had come. A like number of the seniors (old maids) would occupy the camp for a like time. Excitement ran rampant with the widowers and bachelors and a general riot almost prevailed for a time. A reception committee must be formed and a captain elected. After a number of musical preliminaries a good old scout from Tontito Springs was duly elected in the primaries and he at once called the august body to order.

He forthwith presented his credentials, which consisted of three semi-official and much soiled divorce court documents, which he was at once ordered to pin on his left breast as his badge of honor. Then we were all primed, painted and powdered, in the latest and most up-to-date style as directed by our captain. Next we were placed along the burro trail on large boulders, each of us wearing his most effective pose and winning smile, as directed by our captain. After a short impatient wait we received a wireless from the toll-gate: "They come."

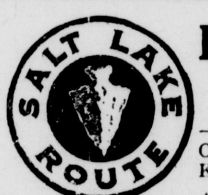

The first one passed looked cold as ice. Bore a banner with a strange device. When forty-nine had gone a device. The banner carried by the last Read "Ice-ice."

That awful chill which hit our crowd Made every heart beat fast and loud. And then our captain broke a lung In crying out that sad word "stung!" Then we all fell off the rocks, soaked our heads in the icy stream, and prayed for war.

One bright Sunday morning I was both surprised and pleased to receive a call from my old time friend, Geo. Wright. After a hearty hand shake I led him to a cool solid seat by the icy waters. He is an old time friend of mine, having hauled all my freight for a quarter of a century. Without putting on the linen or silverware I seated him at the table. Now, while I do not claim that my camp was really haunted, I do admit that some spook-like power at times do freaks, frolics and tango stunts in strange, mysterious ways. Whether it is the wail of the wind in the pine-tops, the laughing, crying murmur of the rushing waters which creates such powerful, hypnotic influence over the place, I will not venture to say, but with the assistance of my own suggestive powers we can "make them sleep." As George's eyes began to close I got bolder, served the handout and at the proper moment snapped my fingers. He opened his eyes with a wild stare and found that he had surrounded, captured and was in full possession of, one of my famous three-course dinners.

His next undertaking was both bold and reckless. Old Mount Baldy, that silent old sentinel of the southland, was his intended victim. With an ambition to stand with both feet on Baldy's bump of veneration and view the wondrous panorama there displayed, George proceeded as follows: When the shadows of night had spread her dark pall over the slumbers of Camp Baldy, George hiked down to the little office window of the Burro Emporium and asked for the freight rates to and fro, via Mt. Baldy. The manager threw in the clutch on his time-locking cigar box and quoted the regular fare, $2.50 per. George shed the jinglers and started to leave, but fell a prey to the sharp eyes of the ever watchful manager. George was called into the office. The lights were turned on. The manager at once began to fade. He thought of his dear little burro, the rigid laws of overweight and of a plan to be released from his contract.

George was at once subjected to a test of measures and overweights as practiced by our friend, Geo. McPhee. All bets were declared off. But George would not stand for such.
